OLD GLENLIVET.

THIS WHISKY is a blend from some of the most noted Distilleries in Scotland, and is guaranteed to consist of PURE MALT SPIRIT only. It is thoroughly matured, very mellow, and entirely free from any smoky or objectionable flavour.

As large holders of the different kinds from which the Blend is made, we are in a position to allow the various Distillings to become thoroughly amalgamated before being bottled, an advantage which consumers of the article will readily appreciate.

TREACHER & Co. feel that it would be an insult to the intelligence of their Constituents to put forward Chemical Analysis and Medical Reports regarding this "Fine Old Spirit," as, however, gratifying these may be in themselves, they are obviously useless as affording a guarantee, that the Spirit offered, is the same as that commented upon.

TREACHER & Co. consider that the proper test of excellence of any article, consists in the demand for it, and judged by that standard, the fact, that, the sale of their "Fine Old Glenlivet" has increased more than tenfold during the past three years, and continues monthly to increase, may be accepted as conclusive proof of its character and value.

Among the many natural mineral waters that have of late years come into vogue, our attention has been called to a water called the Wilhelm's Quelle, from a spring situated in the Taunus, near Frankfort-on-the-Maine. . . . It is highly recommended by several eminent medical men, Dr. Quain, Mr. Spencer Wells, and Sir George Burrows speaking very favourably of it.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

TUESDAY EVENING, Nov. 25, 1879.

THE leading feature in yesterday's commercial telegrams is the report that the New York Stock markets are improving. The panic, therefore, has not been long lived, and it may prove to have been nothing more than a mere relapse in the New York railway share market, quite local in character and incidence. So far as all events there is no evidence that the English markets have been adversely affected. On the contrary, the general tone of yesterday's advices is rather more cheerful; especially in Metals, Copper being £1 and Spelter 5s. per ton, Yellow Metals ¼d. per lb. higher.

Consols are still quoted at 98⅜; and French Rentes at 115½; Four per cent. Enfaced Rupee Paper is ½ higher at 79¼, Fours-and-a-half unchanged at 87.

Reuter quotes the rates of discount in the London market on 3 months' bills at equal to the Bank rate, and on 4 months' at ½ below the Bank rate, which is equivalent to 3 and 2½ per cent. respectively. This, however, is evidently a mistake, and in all probability the quotations for the different usances have been reversed.

In the London General Produce markets Coffee and Cocoanut Oil are unchanged; as also are Seeds. Wheat, to arrive, comes 6d. per quarter higher.

Piece Goods in Manchester yesterday were firm; and Cotton in Liverpool also closed firm, the sales being estimated at 8,000 bales, of which 1,000 were Surats. Spot prices were all unchanged, but we learn from private sources that Surats, to arrive, were dull and tending downwards. In New York ready Mid. Uplands was still quoted 12½ cents, and February shipment at 12·36 cents per lb. which, considering the heavy receipts at the ports, may be taken as evidence of considerable firmness. The receipts to date give the following comparisons :—

	1879.	1878.	1877.
Two Days' Receipts	61,000	37,000	47,000
Three days' do.	88,000	59,000	66,000
Total since 1st Sept.....	1,970,000	1,797,000	1,396,000

Bar Silver in London yesterday was still quoted at 53⅛d. per oz., equivalent to about Rs. 8 15-32d. per rupee. Private advices, we understand, however, report the market weak with sellers but few buyers. Reuter advices the shipment of £175,000 for this port from Venice—a fact which was known here four days ago, moreover he takes no notice of £80,000 shipped from the same quarter, by the previous week's steamer.

EXCHANGE.—The market opened with a decidedly weak feeling at a decline of 1-32d.; and during the day a further fall of 1-16d. was established in Bank paper and 1-32d. in private bills. At the close a downward tendency is distinctly apparent, and the Banks are willing buyers up to the end of the year at to-day's rates. This shows a very marked change in the position from yesterday, and it is by no means unlikely that an important decline may ensue. For some time back we have pointed out that the advance was scarcely warranted by the existing state of trade, and now that we have important shipments of Silver from Austria, accompanied with a definite intimation that the German Government will not be a party to another currency Conference, there are certainly additional arguments in favour of a reaction. That this will last beyond the commencement of our busy season, we cannot, however, think likely. The fact of Germany declining to be represented at a Conference on the Silver question does not mean that any portion of her existing stock will again come on the market; while any decline of importance will probably put a stop at once to further supplies from Austria. The real source of weakness at the moment lies in the quietness in Calcutta where the extent of trade passing is evidently insufficient to bridge over the interval until a more active state of affairs sets in here. When that takes place we may very confidently look forward to a recovery in rates, although in the interval we may have a material decline. We quote to-day :—

Bank Bills, on demand	1s. 8¼d.	per Rs.
Do. 3 months' sight	Is. 8 21-32d.	,,
Credits 3 ,, ,, ...	1s. 8 1-16d.	,,
Documents 3 ,, ,, ...	1s. 8¼d.	,,
Francs 3 ,, ,, ...	2·20	,,

On Calcutta, the rate for demand drafts is par to 1-16 per cent. premium, 60 days' sight ¼ per cent. discount.

GOVERNMENT PAPER has been very steady, notwithstanding the decline in exchange, and we now quote :—Fours, Rs. 93; Fours-and-a-half, Rs. 101¾.

The SHARE market, although quiet, is pretty steady. Bank of Bombay are unchanged at Rs. 675. In Press Companies there is no movement, and in Land Companies we have only to notice further advance of Rs. 5 in Colaba. Spinning and Weaving Mill shares are somewhat irregular. We quote a decline of Rs. 10 in Bombay United, and Rs. 5 in Manockjee Petit and Morarjee Gocouldass; on the other hand there is an advance of Rs. 5 in Coorla and Jowraz Balloo, Rs. 10 in Khandeish and Madras United, and Rs. 15 in Sholapore.

COTTON.—Although the home advices are by no means strong, the absence of sellers here, and the backward tendency of exchange has rendered our market very firm to-day, and prices are quite Re. 1 to Rs. 2 per candy higher. The transactions reported in New Cotton make up a total of about 1,200 bales, mostly of New Omra, and a much larger business would have resulted, had there been sellers. We quote :—

Good Hingunghaut, Dec. delivery.....	Re. 240	per candy.
,, Omra Feb. ,, ...	217	,,
,, Broach March ,, ...	228	,,

SEEDS.—Linseed continues in small supply and very firm at Rs. 7 to Rs. 7-3 per cwt. Rapeseed is dull and unchanged. Gingelly is coming forward very freely, but the decline in prices has brought out buyers, and a fair business has been done at Rs. 41 per candy for Mixed

FREIGHTS continue firm and advancing. For Liverpool the quotation for measurement ready is 33s. 9d., but for the Rydal Hall (S. S.) 37s. 6d. is now asked. For Genoa and Marseilles and Trieste and Venice an advance of 2s. 6d. per ton is asked to-day.

PIECE GOODS are still in good demand, and the clearances continue at the rate of about 300 packages per day. For 7lbs. and 8½lbs. 30 inch Grey Shirtings and Jacconets better prices are being obtained; and a better enquiry is also manifested for Bleached Goods, especially low makes of Jacconets. All round the market is decidedly firmer.

COALS are quiet and unaltered on the spot, but to arrive there is less disposition to sell owing to the decline in exchange, and the lowest quotation for Davison's by steamer is now Rs. 21½ per ton.

PIXLEY AND ABELL'S CIRCULAR.

27, OLD BROAD STREET, LONDON, 30TH OCT. 1879.

GOLD.—The demand for Gold has continued during the week, and orders have come to hand from Egypt, Germany, and America, to a considerable extent. The only arrival we have to report is that by Australian Steamer, which brought £202,940 from Melbourne and Sydney; this amount included £40,000 Sovereigns, which were sent into the Bank; the balance, about £160,000, together with £1,298,000 withdrawn from that establishment, has been taken for Export. The Hydaspes takes £55,000 to Alexandria.

SILVER.—Since our last Circular of 23rd inst., there has been a marked rise in the price of Bar Silver; we then quoted 52¾d. per oz. "nearest." Sales have been made to-day at 53¾d. and 53⅞d. per oz., in great measure owing to the higher rate of issue of the India Council Bills yesterday, notified below. The holidays in Calcutta terminate to-morrow, but, until the effect of the recent rise in the Council Bills and Silver has been realised there, it is difficult to say what the future of our market may be. The only arrival to report is about £10,000 from Hamburg. The P. and O. Steamer takes £91,300 to Bombay.

MEXICAN DOLLARS have also risen, and transactions have taken place at 53d. per oz., and we quote this rate to-day as the "last price." The West India Steamer has arrived with $651,000, but as the quantity of Coin in this consignment will not be known until to-morrow, we cannot say what the probable price may be. The P. and O. Steamer takes £13,950 to the Straits.

EXCHANGE on India for Banks Drafts at 60 days' sight is 1s. 8¾d. per Rupee. The India Council Bills yesterday were sold at an advance of about 2 per cent. on the last price of issue. The allotments were—

To Calcutta—Rs. 30,00,000—average rate 1s. 8d., 625
Bombay— ,, 5,00,000— ,, 1s. 8d., 625

Tenders on both Presidencies at 1s. 8⅛d. per Rupee, receive in full. 40 Lakhs of Rupees of these Bills are advertised for next week. The latest quotations of Exchange from the East for Bank Bills at four months' sight are, from Bombay, 1s. 8 13-16d., and from Calcutta, 1s. 8⅜d. per Rupee; from Hongkong, 3s. 10⅜d. per Dollar; and from Shanghai, 5s. 3⅜d. per Tael.

THE death of Mr. Delane brings to a close a career which would have been impossible for anyone but an Englishman, and which is hardly to be paralleled even in England. As editor of the Times when that paper was at the zenith of its reputation, and when the Press at home had not yet been subjected even by the most daring critics to that remorseless scrutiny which in these days all institutions seem to be fated to undergo, and which too often shocks us by revealing the feet of clay of the golden idol we had worshipped, Mr. Delane was unquestionably the most powerful of non-official Englishmen during what may be called the middle period of the Victorian era. In the early years of the Queen's reign, while Lord Melbourne, Sir Robert Peel, and Lord John Russell held successively the reins of government, the CAPTAIN R. METHVEN, of the Kaisar-i-Hind, was lately offered the appointment of Agent at Malta for the P. and O. Company; but, being that most rare of creatures, a sailor who loves his profession, he declined the offer. If, however, the Directors of the P. and O. Company still intend to appoint a nautical man to the Bombay Agency, we wish they would try to induce Captain Methven to come here. He is just the sort of man we want.

MR. JACINTO CAETAN VAZ, the son of Mr. Vaz, an assistant in the Military Department of the Secretariat, after having completed his medical studies in England, has just returned to Bombay by the Kaisar-i-Hind. He holds diplomas as L.R.C.P. (Edinburgh), L.F.P.S. (Glasgow), and L.S.A., London. He also holds two special certificates qualifying him to practise in midwifery.

CIVIL officers on political duty in Afghanistan have been taking policemen with them, and the Inspector-General of the Punjab Police objects. The force, he says, is overworked, and policemen should not be given for service beyond the frontier or for military duties.

THE Maharani of Vizianagram has subscribed one thousand pounds to the fund now being formed for the establishment of an Indian institute at Oxford.

NAWAB ABDUL GANI and his son Asanullah, of Dacca, have in the most public spirited manner placed at the disposal of the Government of Assam fourteen elephants and a steamer, for use in the Naga expedition. The elephants have been accepted.

WE think the time has come when the Post Office should make registration more popular. Lately they have introduced various regulations, having for their object the more effectually assuring the safety of registered letters, &c., but they have made no attempt to reduce the rate. It is far too high, and bears no reasonable relation to postage rates in general. The experiment has been tried at home with marked success. For a long time the rate was 4d. per covers. In 1870 the number of registered letters was 3,005,394, while in 1877 it stood at 4,316,047, showing an annual increase of about 4 per cent. The following year, 1878, saw the registration fee reduced to two pence per cover, when the numbers of registered letters increased to 7,200,350, or at the rate of 40 per cent. In a very short time the revenue will recover more than it lost by the reduction of rate, and we are sure that a registration fee of 2 annas would lead to a much greater proportionate increase in this country than in England. There faith in the post office is universal, here it is not so, and a cheap system of registration would be taken advantage of much more extensively on that account.

A SIMLA correspondent writes as follows:—"On the 20th November, the Governor-General left Simla on his way to the plains, and with his departure we may consider the close of the season. The place is emptying fast, and all amusements are at an end. The weather continues very mild and beautiful. Some Government of India Offices will continue to work up here during the winter. This is an experiment; it is the intention of the authorities to make Simla really the head-quarters of the Government of India, and arrangements are now on the tapis for the permanent establishment of all the Government of India Offices at this station throughout the year; the Viceroy being accompanied only by a small camp office on his tours. The Council Chamber is also to be very much enlarged; some of the smaller offices in Calcutta and other parts of the country are to be abolished, and their work done by the press at Simla. Simla is at the present moment, and will continue for the next eight or ten days, without a Magistrate or a Judge. The Deputy Commissioner has gone with the Viceroy to Kalka; the Judicial Commissioner has gone to Koteghur to try the multitudinous charges brought against Mr. Paul, the tea planter; Mr. Massey, who is to act for the Deputy Commissioner during his leave, has not yet arrived; and so the station is left to rapine and murder! Pleaders are without work, clients put off with their cases for many days, and so when the bench is filled by a Judge, the files will have become so heavy that it will take great patience and heavy work to clear them. There is nothing in the shape of news. The water work people continue building the principal reservoir over the church, but that at Segowlie has been stopped for want of funds. Surely the twelve lakhs set apart from Imperial funds, and which the Municipality have been called upon to make good in a certain number of years, have not been wholly expended?"

CAPTAIN ARTHUR CONOLLY, who was killed in Bokhara, left behind him a manuscript journal which is said to be still in the possession of the Indian Government. This journal, if one may judge from quotations, contains a quantity of information about the Turcomans of Merv, which Conolly visited in 1840. The new town of Merv was then a collection of some hundred mud huts: with a large bazaar, however, which was frequented by in-comers from the surrounding country. The Governor of Merv was appointed by the Khan of Khiva. Conolly went to see him, and during the visit a body of Turcomans came in with the spoil of a recent raid: three blackened skulls, thirty Persians captured at Khelat-i-Nadir, and thirty-six horses. The Turcomans gave the Governor as his share two captives and two horses; and also received payment for the heads, which Conolly afterward saw in the bazaar, where he also observed signs of a flourishing slave trade. Another manuscript which, if published, might be of interest now, is Pottinger's Memoir of the country between Herat and Kabul. Not much is known about this part of Afghanistan. The journey between Herat and Kabul was performed by Shah Zeman, with a body of horse, in 12 days; and the road is said to be passable for artillery of small calibre.

THE Indian bankruptcy law seem to require revision. The Calcutta papers maintain that once a month a farce is transacted before the Bankruptcy Commissioner, who looks into the cases of a few apparently impecunious individuals, wastes a whole day over the useless work, then swears and discharges the applicants. A large number of these cases might be more justly heard by the Magistrate, as many of them have a quasi-criminal look about them, which the present bankruptcy law does not seem to be able to reach.

REFERRING to the scenes which occurred at the various stations while Wassudeo Bulwunt was being conveyed between Poona and Thana, the Lahore paper says:—The Bombay authorities began wisely by decoliniding to make a martyr of Wassudeo Bulwunt, and ended foolishly by making a lion of him. The fellow ought to have been taken as unostentatiously as if he were a bale of goods to the train which was to convey him from Poona to Thana, en route to the Andamans. But, unluckily, everybody knew of the event, and not only the merely curious, but the "rebel's" sympathizers crowded the platform—the latter bestowing upon him affectionate farewells. He also created a little scene at every station on the way. We fear the amount of popular sympathy of which the silly Brahmin has been the object says little for the loyalty of too many people in Poona and the surrounding districts.

SOME ex-students of the Government School of Art in Calcutta have determined to establish an art studio of their own, and are prepared, they say, to "paint portraits, landscapes, and ideal scenes according to order, as also stage scenes and proscenium." They will furthermore undertake all kinds of decorative and lithographic work and wood engraving.

ORDERS have been issued by the military authorities for the embarkation by Buckingham Canal to Dowlaishweram of a wing of the 39th Regiment N. I. for service in the Rumpa country. The detachment will consist of two European and eight native officers, 302 non-commissioned officers and rank and file, seventy-nine public and private followers and two horses. The 39th Regiment N. I., it will be remembered, proceeded to Coconada on the 14th March last, shortly after the Rumpa rebellion began, and returned in small detachments as it was found that their assistance was not required, the 17th and other regiments from Berhampore and Vizianagram being considered sufficient for suppressing the rebellion. Soon after the return of the 39th, the 10th Regiment was ordered to the Rumpa country and is still there. Two companies of the 6th N. I. from Trichinopoly will arrive at Madras about the 20th instant to relieve the wing of the 39th by train. The military authorities have ordered a troop of the 4th Cavalry from Bellary to Trichinopoly.

FROM Mandalay we hear that although foreigners generally are experiencing much better treatment than they have for years, the greatest barbarities still take place inside the Palace. One of the recently made princes was said to have been nearly beaten to death for corresponding with one of the Royal maids of honour, whilst several attendants who were thought to be implicated have been imprisoned in the Palace precincts, and this often means starving to death.

TOUGHENED glass sleepers and railway chairs are attracting attention in England, the application of glass to this purpose being due to Mr. H. L. Bucknall, and the toughening process to Mr. F. Siemens, of Dresden. For all practical purposes a toughened glass sleeper is as strong and durable as one of cast iron, and while the cost is about the same, the weight of the former is only one-third that of the latter—an important advantage where the sleepers have to be transported any great distance. Mr. Bucknall expects to be able to utilize blast furnace slag for making these sleepers and chairs, in which case their cost will be considerably reduced. A practical trial of the invention is being made on the North London Tramways.

IT has long been an understood fact in commerce that when the vintage fails in France considerable exportations of Scotch whisky ensue. By a process of manufacture it is made to assume the counterfeit presentment of brandy, and it comes back after its voyage and manipulation as the superior article. How it gets into general consumption is a question upon which, hitherto, there has been some doubt, but the mystery would now seem to be cleared. At the Sheriff's Court of Glasgow it has just leaked out that a brisk trade is carried on in labels which, bearing the names of spurious French houses, are boldly affixed to decoctions which no French firm would own. The brandy which is sold under these pretences comes, it is affirmed, from France, but on the express understanding that it shall be put up to sale either anonymously or with such names as the importer chooses to manufacture. "De Conde and Co.," "Alcondo, Suilant, and Co." are some of the unlikely inventions adopted in Glasgow for the purpose of selling the unacknowledged spirit. But there is little doubt that those who relished it were merely swallowing "raw grain" of the national distilleries, which had been doctored in France and re-exported to Scotland. A curious circumstance in connection with the disclosure is that instead of being the cause of litigation in the local courts, it is only an incident of a case in which the printers of the labels were suing for their payment. The publican who used them was consoled from the bench by an assurance that "it was evident he did not consider there was anything wrong in the process." The process itself must have affected a tolerable number of people, as the labels were ordered to the number of 30,000.

SIR F. ROBERTS'S DESPATCHES.

FIELD OPERATIONS.

SIMLA, 21st November, 1879.

His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor General in Council has much gratification in directing the publication of the following despatches from Lieutenant-General Sir F. S. Roberts, K.C.B., V.C., reporting the operations of the troops under his command from the date of his again taking the field at Thull on the 10th September, 1879, to his entry into Kabul on the 13th of October following.

It will be the grateful duty of the Governor General in Council to see that the excellent services rendered by Sir Frederick Roberts and his force throughout the operations which he has conducted with such conspicuous ability and success, are brought to the knowledge of Her Majesty's Government for such acknowledgment as the Queen-Empress may be graciously pleased to extend to them.

Meanwhile the Governor General in Council desires, on his part, to assure Lieutenant-General Sir Frederick Roberts and the officers and men under his command, especially those, both British and Native, who have received the high distinction of honourable mention in these despatches, that their zeal, courage and devotion are heartily recognized and gratefully acknowledged by himself and the Government over which he presides.

SIMLA, 25th October, 1879.

From Major-General Sir P. S. Lumsden, K.C.B., C. S. I., Adjutant General in India, to Colonel Allen Johnson, Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

I am directed by the Commander-in-Chief to submit to Government, for despatch, No. 1,122 of the 15th October, to the Chief of the Staff, from Major General Sir F. S. Roberts, K.C.B., V.C., Commanding the Kabul Field Force, detailing the advance of the troops from Kuram to Zargun-Shahr in the Logar Valley, and the incidents which occurred between the 12th September and the 2nd October, 1879.

2. His Excellency would draw attention to the activity and judgment by which enabled the Major-General to so successfully achieve the passage of the Shutar Gardan Pass in the manner detailed, as also to the excellent bearing of the troops on all occasions when in contact with the enemy.

3. The successful repulse of the Ghilzai attack on the Shutar Gardan post on the 2nd October, by the force left under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel G. N. Money, was most creditable to that officer and all concerned.

Bala Hissar, Kabul, 15th October, 1879.

From Major-General Sir F. S. Roberts, K.C.B., V.C., Commanding the Kabul Field Force, to the Chief of the Staff, Army Head-Quarters.

I have the honor to report that I reached Thull on the 10th of September, and, pushing on with all speed, arrived at Alikhel on the 12th idem.

2. There the satisfactory intelligence met me that, on the previous day, the 23rd Pioneers, 5th Goorkhas, and No. 2 Mountain Battery, whom I had ordered to seize and hold the Shutar Gardan, had accomplished their task without opposition, and were securely entrenched on the crest of the pass.

As it was a matter of the greatest importance that every facility should be afforded for the easy passage of our artillery across the Shutar Gardan, I telegraphed orders on the 9th of September, directing the 7th Company of Sappers and Miners, then at Shalozan to march with all speed towards the Shutar Gardan. This order was acted upon immediately, and by the 13th instant the company was at work on the Sirkai Kotal, a steep and awkward ascent some three miles this side the summit of the Shutar Gardan pass.

3. Meanwhile, as much of the force in the Kuram Valley as carriage would admit of my moving, and as could be withdrawn with a due regard to the maintenance of our communications, was at once set in motion for the front.

4. Transport was, however, the great difficulty which had to be met; owing to the continuous hard work to which the transport animals of the Kuram Field Force had been subjected, their numbers had steadily but rapidly diminished, until, at the commencement of the month of September, there remained about 1,500 mules, 500 sickly camels and 800 bullocks, or barely sufficient to enable the Commissariat to feed the force which it was presumed would remain in the Kuram Valley for the winter. It is true that a large number of pack-bullocks had, prior to the occurrences which led to the advance on Kabul, been despatched for the Commissariat service in the valley; but, for these, many had either been knocked up by the journey from the Punjab, or were suffering from semi-starvation to such an extent as to be practically useless.

5. Local carriage, drawn from the Turis and Jagis, had, to some extent, made up for our deficiencies in this respect, and, aided by a proportion of Ghilzai carriage, had enabled the Commissariat to collect a considerable amount of supplies at the Shutar Gardan, quite sufficient to relieve any anxiety as to the immediate wants of the troops left there, and to move still larger stores forward for the force advancing upon Kabul.

6. Reports, too, reached me at this time that several of the regiments that had been concerned in the attack upon the Embassy at Kabul had left the capital, and, with some guns, marched towards the Spiga district of Zurmat, with the design of harassing our left flank as we passed through the Hazardarakht defile on our way to the Shutar Gardan. The knowledge of this action on their part necessitated increased vigilance on mine, for from the place, (Gardez, in the Zurmat country), for which these troops had made, descents were possible at several places along our line of communication,—namely, upon the Kuram Valley itself by the river-side through Chimkunni and Kariab, upon the Pelwar Kotal by the crest of the ridge which runs south-west from that place towards the Kuram river, and between Dreikullah and the Shutar Gardan, more especially in the narrow defiles of the Hazar-darakht.

As an instance of the length to which religious feelings may be worked upon, I may mention that the bodies of two sons of Ahlyar Khan, an influential Zurmat chief, who had been slain during the attack on the Embassy, were carried by the mutinous troops to Gardez, and there buried amidst a scene of great popular excitement, the people, who had assembled in large numbers, vowing to be revenged for their deaths.

I was informed that these tribes would resort to no hostilities until the fast of Ramzan was over,—that is, not before the 20th or 21st of September; and subsequent events proved the correctness of this information.

7. Passing over the detailed operations and movements of troops, which have already been from time to time communicated to Army Head-Quarters, it will, I think, be sufficient to state that, by the 18th of September, a force consisting of No. 2 Mountain Battery, 7th Company, Sappers and Miners, 72nd Highlanders, 5th Goorkhas, 23rd Pioneers, was collected at, and firmly established upon, the crest of the Shutar Gardan, under the command of Brigadier-General Baker, C.B., who had proceeded thither from Alikhel on the 13th of September. In addition to the above, 200 bayonets of the 5th Punjab Infantry had been put into the nearly completed walled serai at Karatiga, a mile and half on the Hazar-darakht side of the Sirkai Kotal.

In the Kuram and Hariab Valleys the position of the troops had been altered to meet existing circumstances as follows:—

Half-battery, C-4th, Royal Artillery, to Kuram from Kohat.

Two companies, 8th Foot, to Kuram from Kohat.

11th Regiment Native Infantry to Kuram from Badesh-khel.

9th Lancers (one squadron), to concentrate at Kuram.

14th Bengal Lancers, " " "

G-3rd, Royal Artillery, " " "

F-A, Royal Horse Artillery, to Shutar Gardan from Kuram.

28th Punjab Native Infantry, to Shutar Gardan from Kuram.

92nd Highlanders to concentrate at Alikhel.

3rd Sikhs to Shutar Gardan from Thull.

5th Punjab Infantry (head-quarters) to Alikhel from Shalozan.

Gatling guns (two) to Alikhel from Kuram.

8. The next few days were devoted to strengthening the position on the Shutar Gardan, to collecting carriage for the onward movement of the troops already named, and the storage of supplies both at Alikhel and Shutar Gardan.

9. On the 14th of September Nawab Sir Gholam Hasan Khan, K.C.S.I., who had started from Kandahar for Kabul, but who, having heard of the outbreak there, turned off towards the Kuram Valley, passed through our outpost on the Shutar Gardan, and subsequently reached Alikhel.

Brigadier-General Baker reconnoitred on the 16th from the Shutar Gardan towards Kushi, and reached the Sirkai Kotal, a short distance beyond the village and fort of Dobandi. No resistance was offered, and inspection proved that the difficulties both of this kotal and the far-famed Akhoond-khel gorge had been rather over-estimated, though doubtless, if held by a resolute and skilful foe, their passage would be attended with difficulty.

10. I regret to have to state that on the 22nd September a combined attack was made by Mangals and Ghilzais, numbering from 200 to 300 men, upon a telegraph party whilst on the march between the Sirkai Kotal and Karatiga. It appears from the evidence elicited by the occurrence which has been submitted to me, that, soon after 6 a.m. on that day, a party consisting of one telegraph linesman, 22 telegraph coolies, 40 muleteers and 84 mules, escorted by one naik and ten sepoys of the 5th Punjab Infantry, left Shutar Gardan (without the knowledge of the Brigadier-General commanding there) for the purpose of repairing the telegraph line from Karatiga. About 9 a.m. intelligence reached Shutar Gardan that not only had this party been attacked, but also that a heavy fire had been kept up upon the detachment, consisting of one British officer and 50 non-commissioned officers and men, stationed in a block-house on the Sirkai Kotal. As many of the 72nd Highlanders as could be spared from Alikhel at once proceeded to the spot, but the marauding band had disappeared, and attempts to follow them up proved fruitless. One man of the detachment at the Sirkai Kotal was surprised and cut up, whilst the loss of the telegraph party amounted to one naik and six sepoys of the 5th Punjab Infantry, one linesman, 12 muleteers and five coolies killed; one sepoy of the 5th Punjab Infantry and two muleteers wounded; and one muleteer, two coolies and 84 mules missing.

Brigadier-General Baker, C. B., informs me that he had issued orders that no escort of a less strength than 25 men per cent. of animals in a convoy should be sent out; but this order does not seem to have been understood by the Superintendent of Telegraphs.

11. On the 23rd ultimo Wazir Shah Mahomed, the Amir's Foreign Secretary, and Mustafi Habibulla, Finance Minister, arrived in my camp at Alikhel from Kabul, and during their stay, which extended over three days, were treated with the consideration and marks of respect due to their position.

12. F-A, Royal Horse Artillery, the 12th Bengal Cavalry, two guns of No. 2 Mountain Battery, one company of the 72nd Highlanders, the 7th Company of Sappers and Miners, the 5th Goorkhas, and the 23rd Pioneers, under Brigadier-General Baker, moved down from the Shutar Gardan on the 24th, and, passing through Dobandi, which was found to have been deserted by its inhabitants, crossed over the Shinkai Kotal, and reached Kushi the same evening, thus securing our entrance into the Logar Valley and obtaining a stand-point in it.

13. The strength and position of the troops under my command stood thus on the 26th of September:—At Kushi—F-A, Royal Horse Artillery, No. 2 Mountain Battery, 12th Bengal Cavalry, 7th Company, Sappers and Miners, 72nd Highlanders (seven companies), 5th Goorkhas, and 23rd Pioneers. At Shinkai Kotal—5th Punjab Infantry (six companies). At Shutar Gardan—Four guns, No. 1 Mountain Battery, 72nd Highlanders (one company), 92nd Highlanders (six companies), 3rd Sikhs, and 14th Bengal Lancers. At Sirkai Kotal—92nd Highlanders (one company), and 5th Punjab Infantry (one company). At Karatiga—92nd Highlanders (one company), and 5th Punjab Infantry (one company). At Alikhel—Half C-2nd, Royal Artillery, Squadron, 9th Lancers, 5th Punjab Cavalry, 8th Foot (two companies), 67th Foot, and 28th Punjab Infantry. At Zubardast Kila.—G-3rd, Royal Artillery, 11th Native Infantry and 28th Punjab Native Infantry. At Peiwar Kotal—8th Foot (four companies). At Kuram—Half C-4th, Royal Artillery, Wing, 18th Bengal Lancers, 8th Foot (two companies) and Details British Regiments. At Badesh Khel—Two guns No. 1 Mountain Battery, 1st Bengal Cavalry (one squadron), and 20th Punjab Native Infantry. At Thull—1st Bengal Cavalry (two squadrons) and 29th Punjab Native Infantry.

14. On the 27th, I moved my head-quarters from Alikhel to the Shutar Gardan, in company with the head-quarters of the Cavalry Brigade, the 9th Lancers (one squadron), 5th Punjab Cavalry, 28th Punjab Native Infantry, and a detachment of the 5th Punjab Infantry. The infantry were directed to bring up the rear, whilst the cavalry and staff were to push forward and endeavour to reach Kasimkhel or the Shutur Gardan before dark. About 10-30 A.M. the head of the column was joined by 24 men of the 92nd Highlanders who had been sent from Karatiga to act as an advance guard. This precaution was adopted by order of Lieutenant Colonel Perkins, C. B., Royal Engineers, the officer commanding at the Shutar Gardan, in consequence of a rumoured gathering of Mangals and Machalgu Ghilzais in the Hazar-darakht defile. On their march downwards, however, this detachment saw no indications of the presence of an enemy.

At 11 A.M., whilst halting to allow the baggage to close up, a report reached me that 2,000 Mangals barred our advance, occupying the pass between Jagi Thanna and Karatiga. I ordered out a reconnaissance under Captain W. J. Vousden, 5th Punjab Cavalry, who ascertained that the enemy in force were to the south of the ravine half a mile beyond Jagi Thanna. During this reconnaissance Captain Vousden's horse was shot.

The detachment of the 92nd Highlanders, supported by a dismounted troop of the 9th Lancers, speedily cleared the northern side of the gorge; but the enemy clung obstinately to the precipitous hills on the south, and some little time elapsed before they were driven from their positions.

On the arrival of the 28th Punjab Native Infantry a commanding hill was held until the rear-guard had passed.

15. I regret to have to report that Deputy Surgeon-General S. C. Townsend was severely wounded by a bullet, which entered his right cheek. The wound is not dangerous, but for the time deprived of his valuable services, as it was found necessary to remove him to Alikhel.

No other casualties occurred on our side. As regards the enemy, they kept so closely under cover that, though a few were seen to fall, their loss was probably trifling.

16. Meanwhile a warm engagement had for some hours been carried on in the direction of Karatiga, and presently large numbers of the enemy were seen retreating before a small detachment of the 92nd Highlanders and 3rd Sikhs, which had been sent out from Karatiga, and which were, with excellent judgment and boldness, led up a steep spur commanding the defile.

The energy and skill with which this party which consisted of the 18 Rifles, 92nd Highlanders, 45 Rifles, 3rd Sikhs, was handled reflect the highest credit on Colour-Sergeant Hector Macdonald, 92nd Highlanders, and Jemadar Sher Mahomed, 3rd Sikhs. But for their excellent services on this occasion, it might probably have been impossible to carry out the programme of our march.

Havildar Fan Khan and three sepoys of the 3rd Sikhs were killed early in the day. The havildar died gallantly, killing one of his opponents after he himself was wounded and before being finally overpowered.

In this encounter the enemy suffered so severe a loss that they abandoned their intention of attacking Karatiga and withdrew to their homes with an estimated loss of 90 killed.

17. I had intended that the rear-guard of the force should leave Alikhel on the 28th, but, owing to the whole of the ammunition not having arrived from Kuram till very late on the night of the 27th, I thought it advisable to defer the start till the next day. Meanwhile, on the 28th I moved on to Kushi, where I found Brigadier-General Baker encamped with the following troops, who had arrived at that place on the dates named:—On 24th—One company, 72nd Highlanders, 5th Goorkhas, 5th Punjab Cavalry, and four guns, No. 2 Mountain Battery; on 25th—F-A, Royal Horse Artillery, seven companies, 72nd Highlanders on 26th—Four guns, No. 2 Mountain Battery, 23rd Pioneers, 7th Company, Sappers and Miners, and six companies, 5th Punjab Infantry; on 27th—14th Bengal Lancers (one squadron), 5th Punjab Cavalry and 92nd Highlanders.

18. The day before my arrival, the Amir Yakub Khan, attended by his eldest son, and by Sirdars Yahya Khan, Daood Shah, the Mustafi, Wazir Gholam Mahomed Khan, and a suite of 45 members, together with an escort of 200 men, came into Kushi. His Highness was met by Brigadier-General Baker, C.B., and escorted into the British camp, with which he has since remained.

On the 29th, G-3rd, Royal Artillery, the 67th Regiment, and the 21st Punjab Native Infantry, escorting large convoy of stores and reserve ammunition, left Alikhel and halted at Karatiga for the night. In the Hazar-darakht defile a feeble attack was made on the rear-guard of the column by a small party of marauders who were, however, easily driven off with some loss, the only casualties on our side being two men of the 67th Foot slightly wounded.

19. The Cavalry Brigade under Brigadier General Massy, accompanied by two guns of F-A, Royal Horse Artillery, two companies of the 72nd Highlanders, and the 5th Punjab Infantry, moved from Kushi on Zargun Shahr. On this day also the rear-guard of my force, consisting of the 67th Foot and G-3rd, Royal Artillery, under Brigadier-General Macpherson, C.B., V.C., marched to the Shutar Gardan, and next day arrived at Kushi. Both batteries of artillery had surmounted the difficult Shutar Gardan Pass without any accident, a fact which evinced the astonishing activity of the Afghan's generally, which is much great credit on Captain H. Pipon and Major St. Parry, in command of F-A, Royal Horse Artillery, and G-3rd, Royal Artillery, respectively.

20. So far my force reached safely, notwithstanding difficulties of transport greater than I ever remember to have experienced in any former campaign; but now it became evident that, owing to this cause, I should be obliged, however unwillingly, to alter my plans and defer my arrival at Kabul for some days.

I had intended to move the cavalry brigade to Zahidabad on the 2nd of October, but owing to all transport being required in the rear, I was obliged to halt them at Zargun Shahr. On the same date the 2nd and 4th Punjab Infantry had been put into the nearly completed walled serai at Karatiga, a mile and half on the Hazar-darakht side of the Sirkai Kotal.

21. On the 2nd October the mischief which I quite understood was brewing amongst the Mangals and Spiga Ghilzais, and to which I alluded in paragraph 6 of this letter, manifested itself openly in a threatened attack upon the entrenched camp at the Shutar Gardan, for which place I had left, as a permanent garrison, four guns of No. 1 Mountain Battery, the 3rd Sikhs and the 21st Punjab Native Infantry—Lieutenant-Colonel G. N. Money of the 3rd Sikhs, an officer in whose judgment and coolness I have most perfect reliance, commanding the whole. The event proved that my confidence in him was fully justified.

It appears that the enemy, emboldened by the diminution of the Shutar Gardan garrison, which the onward march of the troops destined for the advance upon Kabul had rendered necessary, and under-rating the worth of those in camp, began to make their appearance on the hills which overlook the crest of the pass as early as 7 A.M. Although their intentions were evidently hostile and they were actually within range of the mountain guns, Lieutenant-Colonel Money refrained from attacking them, as it was represented to him by Captain Turner (in Political charge at Shutar Gardan) that Alla-ud-din Khan, brother of Padshah Khan, head of the Ghilzai tribe who were actively posted in camp, and that he would probably have sufficient influence to induce the hostile tribes to come to friendly terms and withdraw without bloodshed.

Accepting this suggestion, but deeming it of paramount importance to secure the crest above the kotal, in order to maintain heliographic communication with the Field Force, Lieutenant-Colonel Money sent 100 rifles of the 3rd Sikhs under Major C. J. Griffiths, together with the signalling party, to occupy it. Before they were far from camp, however, the enemy in considerable numbers, and with several standards, appeared on the very spot it was intended to hold. One hundred more rifles of the 3rd Sikhs under Captain W. B. Aislabie were immediately despatched in support of Major Griffiths, the latter officer being desired to halt for a short time, in the hope that Alla-ud-din Khan might yet arrive.

22. Almost at the same moment, information was received that a large body of men was approaching from the north, and several shots were shortly after fired at our picket.

The enemy, emboldened by our apparent hesitation, now appeared, some 1,500 strong with eight standards, and began firing at our advanced party. Their position was a strong one, and was further strengthened by breastworks on the crest, which Lieutenant-Colonel Money rightly felt that as they had taken the initiative, had fired upon our troops, and imagined that there was hesitation on our side, the time for intervention had passed, and that a vigorous attack should be made. An advance was accordingly ordered, the four guns of No. 1 Mountain Battery, which were posted in divisions on our right and left, beginning to shell the enemy.

Major Griffiths, 3rd Sikhs, with 200 rifles of his regiment and 50 rifles of the 21st Punjab Native Infantry, then advanced to storm the position, 150 rifles of the 21st Punjab Native Infantry being in reserve. The assault was delivered in the most spirited manner and with no perceptible check, the enemy being forced to take to precipitate flight. Our loss amounted to one British officer (Major Griffiths, 3rd Sikhs), Signalling-Sergeant Brown, 67th, and five non-commissioned officers and sepoys, 3rd Sikhs, wounded,—all slightly, with the exception of Sepoy Nehal Singh, whose wound is severe but not dangerous.

The enemy, who suffered heavy loss, were pursued down the opposite slopes of the hills, and without an attempt to rally, have, it is believed, dispersed to their homes.

23. Lieutenant-Colonel Money attributes his success in a great measure to the admirable manner in which the four guns of No. 1 Mountain Battery were handled under Captain H. R. I. Morgan, Royal Artillery, and Lieutenant J. C. Shirres, and further brings to my notice the names of Major Griffiths, 3rd Sikhs, who led the attack until wounded, of Captain Aislabie, 3rd Sikhs, who succeeded to the command, and of Captain G. H. C. Dyce, 21st Punjab Native Infantry, all of whom led their men in the most gallant manner. Lieutenant Colonel Money also brings to especial notice the conduct of Jemadar Ganesa Singh (Dogra), Jemadar-Adjutant, 3rd Sikhs, in the following terms:—

When the order to charge was given, this Native officer dashed to the front with six men, was first amongst the enemy, and receiving one man's matchlock fire almost in his face, succeeded in capturing a standard, said to be that of Pir Dost, a Machalgu malik. I never saw a more gallant act."

Lieutenant-Colonel Money's report of this affair is attached.

24. Since this action and up to date, the attitude of the tribes along the Shutar Gardan route has undergone a decided improvement, Lieutenant-Colonel Money having recently reported to me that since the 2nd instant he has been unmolested.

25. The operations which have occurred since the 2nd instant will form the subject of a separate despatch.

CAMP, SHUTAR GARDAN, 3rd October, 1879.

I have the honour to report, for the information of the Major-General Commanding the Kabul Field Force, that, at 7 A.M. yesterday, a large party of men with a standard appeared on a rocky crest over the road to the south-west of the kotal, while a small party below were observed cutting the telegraph wire and throwing down the posts. Although within range of the mountain guns, Captain Turner, Political Officer, was anxious that I should not fire upon them, as Alla-ud-din Khan, brother of Padshah Khan, was just then expected in camp, and he hoped that they might be induced to withdraw without bloodshed and to come to friendly terms with us.

2. Deeming it of importance to secure the crest above the kotal, in order that heliographic communication with the Field Force should not be interrupted, I ordered 100 rifles of the 3rd Sikhs, under Major Griffith to occupy it. Before they were far from camp, however, the enemy with several standards appeared on the crest. I sent 100 more rifles of the 3rd Sikhs, under Captain Aislabie, to support Major Griffiths, whom I ordered to halt for a short time, Captain Turner hoping that Alla-ud-din Khan might arrive. At this moment information was brought to Captain Turner that a large body of men were advancing from the north, a and several shots were fired into the picket on Eyre's Hill. I threw out half a company from this hill, who occupied the crests in advance; only some thirty of the enemy were seen, who fled at once.

3. The enemy, emboldened by our apparent hesitation, occupied in force above Jones's Hill—I should say there were fully 1,500 men, with eight standards—and commenced firing at our advanced party. They occupied a very strong position, having thrown up two sungahs in front and others on both flanks, and the only advance was directly against the centre. I felt, however, that as they had fired on us, and we had shown apparent hesitation in attacking them, it was now too late for any intervention, even should Alla-ud-din arrive, and determined to attack. I ordered two mountain guns from Jones's Hill to keep up a heavy fire on the enemy's left flank during the advance, while the other two guns from camp did the same on their right. I then ordered Major Griffiths to advance against the position with 200 rifles of the 3rd Sikhs and 50 rifles of the 21st Punjab Native Infantry under Captain Dyce, keeping 150 rifles of the 21st Punjab Native Infantry in reserve. The assault was made in the most spirited manner. Major Griffiths was wounded almost immediately, and the command then devolved on Captain Aislabie, whose action was most effectual in keeping down the flanking fire of the enemy, which was most to be dreaded, and I am thankful to say that the position was carried and the enemy put to flight with a loss to ourselves of only one British officer and six non-commissioned officers and men wounded. I can only attribute this to the suddenness of the attack and the effectual fire of the guns.

The enemy fled in the utmost confusion, and were pursued some distance down the slopes on the opposite side. They made no attempt to rally, and, it is believed, have now dispersed to their homes.

4. I would beg to bring to the notice of the Major-General the names of the officers already mentioned—Major Griffiths and Captain Aislabie of the 3rd Sikhs, and Captain Dyce, 21st Punjab Native Infantry, who led their men in the most effectual manner; also Captain Morgan, Royal Artillery, and Lieutenant Shirres, whose able working of the guns contributed largely to our success. I would also beg especially to bring to his notice Jemadar Ganesa Singh (Dogra), Jemadar-Adjutant, 3rd Sikhs. This Native officer, when the order to charge was given, dashed to the front with six men, was first among the enemy, and, receiving one man's matchlock fire almost in his face, succeeded in capturing a standard, said to be that of Pir Dost, a machalgu malik. I never saw a more gallant act.

I enclose a list of casualties.

Return of casualties in action at the Shutar Gardan on the 2nd October.

3rd Sikh Infantry.—Major C. J. Griffiths, Naik Narrain Singh, sepoys Punjab Singh, Chowdrie, and Beer Singh, slightly wounded; sepoy Nehal Singh, severely, but not dangerously wounded.

67th Regiment.—Sergeant Brown, Army Signalling Department, slightly wounded. Total 7 wounded.

Simla, 5th November, 1879.

ADVERTISING AT RAILWAY STATIONS.

THE Proprietor of the "Bombay Gazette" Press having (among other privileges) from the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company, and the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company, the exclusive right of advertising at all the Railway Stations belonging to those two Companies, is prepared to contract with parties desirous of posting Notices or Advertisements on the lines.

The announcements may be in English or in any of the Native Languages.

The advantages which Railway Stations present as a means of bringing intimations of all kinds before the public have been demonstrated in England by the extensive use which is made by Advertisers, of every station, great and small, along every one in the United Kingdom.

Insurance Companies, Shipping Companies, Hotel-keepers, Merchants, Traders, and others who wish to look for their business on the notice of the Public, all alike value the privilege of Railway Station Advertising.

There is no reason why the privilege should not be also specially valuable to Advertisers in India. Looking to the great and increasing number of Native Railway Passengers on the two trunk lines of Western India, native merchants, traders, &c., seeing that they have the privilege of advertising in their own language, would find the publication of their announcement at Railway Stations a decided means of extending their business.

And as nearly ALL TRAVELLERS ARRIVING IN INDIA NOW LAND AT BOMBAY, and proceed by the G. I. P. or B. B. and C. I. Railways to their destinations, placards exhibited at the different stations on those lines are every day becoming more and more valuable as means of bringing the Advertiser's business to the notice of the Public.

Advertisers can select the Stations, on either line, at which they wish their Placards posted, and may advertise for any period that may be agreed on. The charges have been fixed on an extremely moderate scale to encourage Advertisers to make a liberal use of the new means now offered of making announcements known to the Public.

Placards, according to the taste of Advertisers, may be printed at the "Bombay Gazette Press."

"CHARLTON" NON-POISONOUS PAINTS AND COLOURS

For House and Ship Painting, Paper Staining, &c., &c.

The extensive Works of the Company, on the Banks of the Thames, have been greatly enlarged and remodelled under new management, and in future the QUALITY OF ALL GOODS WILL BE GUARANTEED.

Sanitary Science impatient of the deleterious substances hitherto in use, called loudly for

NON-POISONOUS PAINTS AND COLOURS.

And the inauguration of these Works is the response to that demand,

NO POISONOUS INGREDIENTS BEING USED IN THEIR MANUFACTURE.

The Company's products are now largely used at home and abroad by Government Establishments, Dockyards, Arsenals, Railway and Shipping Companies, Public Institutions, School Boards, Hospitals, &c., and wherever the laws of health and economy are studied.

Their comparatively low price allows of the

being used for the commonest as well as

FOR THE HIGHEST CLASS OF DECORATIVE WORK.
